Notes

Under Pressure:
The challenges of population growth in the 21st century

Koldus 111
October 13th, 2009
7 pm - 8:30 pm

Sponsored by:

MSC L.T. Jordan Institute for International Awareness

The MSC L.T. Jordan Institute for International Awareness first opened its doors in December 1986 through a generous endowment from Mrs. Jessie W. Jordan in the name of her late husband, Leland Thomas Jordan. Having lived abroad most of their lives, they knew the importance of traveling abroad and wanted to give Texas A&M students the opportunity to experience it themselves. Since then, the Jordan Institute has evolved into a flagship organization providing innovative and creative international education programs at Texas A&M as well as travel opportunites for students to participate in volunteer service, research and internship programs.

❧

Speakers

Dr. Rogelio Saenz, Professor of Sociology

Dr. Rogelio Saenz is a has been Professor of Sociology at Texas A&M since 1996 and a Cornerstone Liberal Arts Faculty Fellow since 2008. From 1997 to 2005, Dr. Saenz served as the Head of the Department of Sociology. He has also served as a Policy Fellow at the Carsey institute at the University of New Hampshire since 2007. Dr. Saenz' research specialties include demographics, inequality, immigration, and minority groups. A native of Weslaco, Texas, Dr. Saenz holds a BSW from Pan-American University, and both an MS and a PhD from Iowa State University.

Dr. C. Parr Rosson, III

Dr. C. Parr Rosson, III is a Professor and Extension Economist in the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M. Dr. Rosson is active in the American Agricultural Economics Association and the Southern Agricultural Economics Association. His research interests include international trade and marketing. He has published numerous works on the subjects, including textbooks on Agricultural Economics and various works on the World Trade Organization. Dr. Rosson holds a BS in Agronomy and both an MS and PhD in Agricultural Economics, all from Texas A&M.