

TESTIMONIALS

“I learned a great deal about what I can do, what I want to do, and strategies for how to get there.”

~Abigail Mulcahy
ISP Belize 2015

“It gave me a better idea of what I want to pursue in the near future (as well as what I do not want to pursue), gave me hands-on experience in the public health field and working with a great diversity of people, and provided me an opportunity for immense personal growth. I do not believe I could have found a better 'bang for your buck' program anywhere else.”

~Nathaniel Teplitskiy
ISP Costa Rica 2016, ISP Belize 2017

ABOUT THE ISP

The International Service Program (ISP) is a service-oriented program that allows students to live with a host family in Belize or Costa Rica for six weeks over the summer.

Students will participate in intensive community-based service projects for the people and environment of these countries with local organizations.

Highly qualified undergraduate students, graduate students in the Texas A&M Health Science Center or Bush School of Government and Public Service, and students in other relevant graduate programs are encouraged to apply.
